Muralys®

A real technological and aesthetic revolution in the world of architecture, the Muralys steel printing process opens the doors to your creativity.

Resulting from a particularly innovative technique: Molecular Digital Transfer, the Muralys process makes it possible to reproduce any image chosen by the architect or client on an ArcelorMittal Construction product. All ideas are possible, even the most extravagant ones, because the print resolution is breathtaking.

Contact us →

Properties

Request informations →

Documents

Request informations →